Presented by Siemens

Over the past few years, "buzzword" topics like ransomware, supply chain security, and cybersecurity regulation have gained more and more attention. This presentation examines these ideas and links them to concrete initiatives and product features that are rolling out across the entire industrial automation ecosystem.

- Add a session by selecting the box of that session.
- If you make changes to your course schedule, be sure to click “Go to Next Step” to have changes apply.
